

Enjoy a learning vacation with your horse in a luxurious and historic setting

at the 2009 VADA/Nova Adult Dressage Camp

with clinicians: Nancy Lowey and Susan Graham White

July 23-26, 2009

Sunny's Corner Farm at Takaro
Middleburg, VA
w/lodging at the
Red Fox Inn, Middleburg, VA

Cost $975

Cost will include:

- Five private lessons
- One fix-a-test session
- Accommodations for horse
- Lodging at the Red Fox Inn for the rider
- All rider meals

See the website and newsletter in early 2009 for additional details.

For more information

Go online to www.vadanova.org or contact:

Stephanie Floros
703-771-1664
stephaniefloros@hotmail.com

Auditors welcome!

Imagine: Three days, away with your horse, enjoying the amenities of Fox Chase Farm, including newly re-graded indoor and outdoor arenas with dust-free footing ... the riding progress you will achieve with private lessons with these excellent and supportive instructors ...the company of fellow dressage enthusiasts ... pampering at the historic Red Fox Inn.... perhaps even a bit of browsing in the shops in downtown Middleburg, Virginia ...

Photos from the 2008 Adult Camp with Debbie Bowman and Debbie Rodriguez. From left to right: Kathy Curtis; Robin Floyd; Kathleen Parkins receiving instruction from Debbie Rodriguez.

Susan Graham White

Susan Graham White is an FEI level dressage rider, and has been teaching and training dressage for 25 years. She currently shows several horses that compete at the national and FEI levels in dressage, and has earned her bronze and silver medals from the United States Dressage Federation. Ms. White is licensed as an International FEI Event Judge and nationally as both a USEF dressage and event judge. She maintains a full schedule of training, teaching, and officiating. Susan is the sole owner and primary trainer at Wolfhaven Farm located in Southern Maryland.

Nancy Lowey

Nancy Lowey is a Bronze and Silver Medalist, a USEF Dressage Technical Delegate, and a USEF 'R' Dressage Judge from Orange, VA. In addition to many years serving in executive positions for several chapter and state dressage associations, Nancy has organized and managed many licensed dressage shows, clinics, and other events. Her professional expertise, combined with a cheerful and positive "can do" attitude, makes her a popular clinician and judge with riders of all levels. Currently, Nancy is training and showing her horse Peter at Grand Prix.